

Thought of the day

Points to act upon

I will work on purifying my inner and outerself by applying all the thoughts and lessons Ustadha has taught us so far

First of all, i will purify my intentions solely for Allah S.W.T.. My only goal is to please Allah S.W.T.

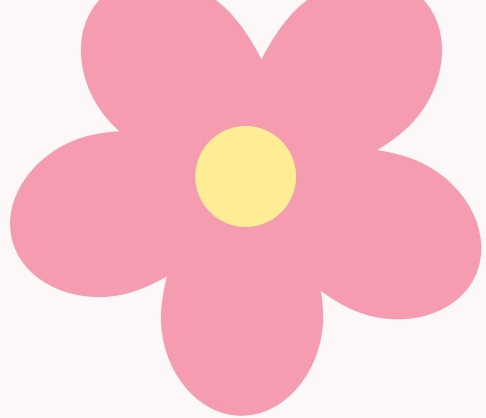

The words of Sahabah R.A. that “we learn knowledge and practice it together” touches my heart. Practicing while learning increases your imaan.

Trying to be thankful and be content with whatever Allah has bestowed upon me, stay happy and spread happiness to others.

I will keep the concern for akhirah in mind in every aspects of life when dealing with any matter.

I will think about what will serve as a sadaqah jariyah for myself after leaving this world. To achieve this I am putting all my effort to raise my children well, gain knowledge, and pass it on to others.

I will hold a firm belief that patience leads to paradise and that Allah is always with those who are patient and keeping in mind that Allah has immense rewards for the patient.

I learned lots of lessons from Abu Bakr R.A.'s life and the incident of "women of paradise".

I will try and follow the footsteps of our mother Khadijah R.A. as a role model who supported her husband and had genuine love for him.

Lastly, I will try to maintain self control over my tongue and try to hold on to the wisdom filled teachings of prophet Luqman A.S. for guidance.

May Allah S.W.T. give us the strength and bless us with the ability to achieve these goals.
